

9mm BROWNING PISTOL STORAGE RACK

The locking system used in Bale Defence Industries Pistol Storage Racks is approved. This ensures the highest degree of security for your weapons.

The pistol rack is a modular design enabling Bale Defence Industries to design and build the storage system to your needs, allowing you to maximise the use of space in your armoury or storage area without compromising security.

Bale Defence Industries has designed this particular storage system for 9mm Browning Pistols for the Australian Defence Force. Bale Defence Industries is able to design the storage system to suit any brand of pistol that you may require.

All Storage systems can be either securely bolted to the wall using hidden bolts, or welded to the wall where that option exists.

All materials used in the construction of the storage system are of the highest grade. The storage system is entirely Australian made.
